More than a few boating enthusiasts—and plenty of brokers, as well—have a good opinion of Robalo boats. Expensive, yes, but quality is never cheap, and Robalo styling, features, and finish are a match for any of today's high-end brands. Introduced in 2007, the 305 Walkaround rides on a deep-V hull with a wide 10'6" beam and a sharp bow entry. Standard features include an integrated swim platform, above-deck 30-gallon live well (behind helm seat), 25-gallon transom live well, folding rear seat, in-deck fish boxes, trim tabs, cockpit toe rails, windlass, tilt helm, pull-up cleats, cockpit rod storage, aft-facing cockpit seats, cockpit bolsters, and bait-prep center. Below decks, the 305's roomy interior with maple cabinets sleeps six and includes a teak-and-holly sole, full-service galley with microwave, stand up head/shower, adjustable teak table, and convertible dinette forward with flip-up seat backs.
